Stop reporting completion rates.

Measure these instead.

01

Simulation click rate.

The share of employees who click a realistic simulated attack. Trend it monthly.

02

Report rate.

How many employees report the simulation instead of ignoring it. This is your real defense.

03

Time to report.

Minutes, not days. Speed decides how big an incident gets.

04

Risk score trend.

Per department, over time. Where is behavior actually improving?

Attendance is a receipt.

Behavior is a result.
